I, Leslye Joy Allen was interviewed by Preston Washington, host of "Gist of Freedom," a creation of the talented Lesley Gist. My original interview is nearly 90 minutes long and Fate Morris (the brother of Cynthia Morris bka Cynthia Wesley) called near the end of the interview. The original unedited interview can be accessed at:

www.blackhistoryuniversity.com, and then by clicking on the podcast titled "50th Anniversary - Four Little Girls" dated 9/12/13. Full Time is 1:28:00.

The following hyperlink below is to an edited version of the interview where Fate Morris' moving testimony--and my attempts to comfort him--are moved up to just after the 10 minute mark. Ironically, this edit does not interfere with the context and meaning of my discussion, in fact it almost enhances the history that I discuss in my discussion with host Preston Washington. The hyperlink to the edited interview can be accessed by clicking here: <http://www.blogtalkradio.com/blackhistory/2013/09/13/four-little-girls-bombing-brother-fate-morris> (Fate Morris' commentary appears after about 10 minutes (full time is 71:20:00)

Read the attached CNN article. Scroll Down until you see the heading that says, "One Victim, Two Perspectives" it has a photo of Fate Morris and his story: <http://www.cnn.com/2013/09/14/us/birmingham-church-bombing-anniversary-victims-siblings/index.html>
